12 Let no one despise you for your youth, but set the believers an example in speech, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity. 1 Tim 4

I've been encouraged to see our youths taking the initiative to create flowers for our outreaches and even to go out with us. Initially I wasn't sure what was going to happen when a big group of inexperienced young people joined us. But God has opened my eyes to the potential of our young ones to be used by Him to share His love and truth!

A. Holly Paterson Nursing home

Mr Lin talked to us for a long time and he was very friendly. He shared that when he's feeling down, he likes to read the Bible as it brings him comfort. But he's not ready to give up Buddhism yet because his whole family are Buddhists. We shared the gospel with him and prayed for him.

Seudat is a Christian from Guyana. He loves the flowers we gave him. He reads the Bible daily and appears to have a good relationship with God.

Kookie, a Malaysian Chinese, is very friendly and loves to hold our hands. She has heard about Jesus but hasn't accepted Him yet. I shared the gospel with her, and she wanted to accept Jesus as her savior. I prayed for her and she repeated after me. Hopefully she understood as she has slight dementia.

Sunharbor Manor Nursing Home

Patricia is a devout Roman Catholic. She lost her daughter in 911 and one of her sons also committed suicide. She loved the flower we gave her and we prayed for her.

Haque doesn't believe in God. Judy shared it's God's love that motivates us to visit and that God loves him. He didn't have any prayer request but let us pray for him.

Annie Taylor, a Jehovah witness, was feeling good. She's able to move her right leg more now. She accepted a copy of "Our Daily Bread" and said she would give me the Watchtower magazine next time. I reminded her that she had already given one to me and I've read it. She said that if I have any questions, we can discuss them next time.

Broadway Mall

It was the school spring break and sister Linda brought her three children along. We had a short training in church on how to share the gospel before we went to the mall. The children helped to give out some gospel tracts. We came across one elderly Chinese couple whom we've met before. The last time they refused our tract, but they took it this time. We also gave tracts to a few disabled young people who frequent the mall. It was encouraging that the children could join us in our outreach!

Tricounty Bazaar

It's been a while since I met Marilyn. She's a Christian but only attends online church. I've encouraged her a few times to physically attend a good church, but she still hasn't done so. There were a few other Christians who appreciated what we're doing and encouraged us to continue.

Celine, a Filipino Christian lady, would like her young daughter to learn Chinese. She moved to Long Island not long ago and is looking for a church nearby. I shared about our church, and she has started attending with her husband and young daughter.

Mall at the Source

I went by myself to check out the mall as we haven't been there in a while.

Andrea recognized me from our meeting in Broadway mall. She said that I had given her a tract and invited her to church. Her son, Jared, is autistic and legally blind and she shared that it's hard to find a church that accepts him. I invited her to attend our church and gave her details about our service.

John works at a store in the mall. He used to go to church but has stopped going. I invited him and he agreed that we all need Jesus.

On a different day, fifteen adults and youths from our church went together. The youths had made flowers using pipe cleaners and attached each stalk with a Bible verse. We went around the mall and gave out more than thirty stalks of flowers and some gospel tracts. Sarah and Chloe prayed for a few people, and they said that they really needed it. Phoebe's group met a lady at a nail salon who's looking for a church and they gave her information. I met a family who used to come to our church. Their son who used to attend our youth group has graduated from college but isn't going to church anymore. I invited them to come back. We felt encouraged by what the Lord has done through the youths!

Some prayer items:

1. Thank God for the children and youths who joined our recent outreaches. May we be good role models and continue to train and encourage them.

2. Thank God for Kookie from the nursing home who prayed to receive Christ. May God continue to help her to grow in Him and have peace and joy.

3. Thank God that Celine whom we met at the mall has started attending our church with her family and is loving it. Pray that they can settle down and grow in Him.

4. Thank God for the encounter with the family who used to attend our church. May God continue to draw them back to Him.
